

DEAD MAN'S FEAT AT FLIGHT PROTESTED

Claude Grahame-White, the English aviator whose protest against awarding the $10,000 prize for the Statue of Liberty flight to the late John B. Moisant, the American, has been upheld by a ruling of the International Aeronautical Federation in Paris. Last October, during the international aviation meet at Belmont Park, New York, Moisant flew from the park to the statue of liberty in New York harbor and returned without alighting, thereby winning $10,000 offered by Thomas F. Ryan, the New York traction magnate. Grahame-White's protest, which was made to the federation in his behalf by the aero club of Great Britain asserted that the rules governing the statue flight had been illegally changed before the race. By the ruling, the race won by Moisant becomes void and will either have to be held again or the prize returned to Mr. Ryan.

There is just as big a difference between ordinary baker's bread and

Buster Brown Bread

As there is between the bread made today and that of earlier days. People were formerly set against bakery bread and as a result improvements for better bread have been inaugurated year after year. Today people eat bakery bread because it is recognized as good and wholesome as the home made kind. In El Paso and vicinity the majority of discriminating people prefer--
